"DRESSCOAT" IS THE FEATURE OF THE NEW EVENING RIDING HABIT

Miss Benedict
First to Adopt the Continental Mode of Attire

By Count Mourik
De Beaufort

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—More than ever, the horse show at Madison Square Garden this year will be a dressy affair, and not only for the lookers on, but for the riders as well. In former years the stunning toilettes of the horse shows were seen outside the ring, but this time, according to information received, the ladies inside the ring will show some exquisite new styles. One riding habit is no longer sufficient a few days for the equine friends who without exception will be there.

There must be a riding suit for the morning—the Park—consisting of breeches and coat of some light material, gray or blue, a whipcord or check, for the afternoon and evening riding habit, in wool or a darker material, and a suit, I am told, with breeches.

For the evening, however, and here is where American riding is going to follow the Continental fashion—wearing riding suits, evening riding suits, will be required.

The only manly part about this dress will be future be "dressed." As it is worn on the same horse as the new evening dress coat, it looks extremely smart, and appears to be more appropriate, and, of course, more dressy for formal occasions as evening performances at the famous horse show.

Miss Benedict's evening riding habit, which she wore at the country, is a typical example of the new style described above, as will be seen at the coming horse show this month.

Miss Gladys Benedict wearing the new all dress evening riding habit.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The Mexican government is seeking mediation in its difficulties with the United States. The foreign office of France was asked today informally if it would serve.
It is probable this proposition will be refused unless the United States signifies its willingness for mediation, and this is hardly probable.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 3.—General Huerta will receive Nelson O'Rourke, the American charge d'affaires, at the National Palace today. It is expected that at that time the Mexican dictator will set forth his position as to his future policy.
A feeling of tense expectancy was aroused when it was learned O'Rourke was going to the palace. He refused to discuss his mission or even admit that arrangements for the conference had been made, but government officials declared that it would take place without fail. It is probable that no announcement will be made here after the meeting, but that the result will be given out at Washington. There is no doubt that the conference is a direct result of pressure from the American capital that Huerta explain his position.
Crisis Near, Says Lind
Disparages from Vera Cruz say that John Lind, the special agent sent to Mexico by President Wilson, expects the situation facing Mexico and the United States to come to a bad within a very short time. These views were followed by reports that Mr. Lind had been communicating directly with the Mexican government without consulting a Washington.

RECOGNITION OF CARRANZA SAID TO BE WILSON PLAN
BY JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—From two great Democratic Senators, one a member of the foreign affairs committee, and as such as the closest to the President, I have at last upon authority the plan of the administration for Mexico. Word has gone out today that by the fall of the mills of the Senate and the House will be full at the request of the executive. Then something decisive will be done.
There are two dead alternatives—the last in direct relation to Mexico. This movement will be taken only when the other has failed, and Congress has been soundly rebuffed. The administration has resolved that unless Huerta and Blum are eliminated from the Mexican situation, then they will have no further opportunity of maintaining the United States government will be in a position to take action against the Mexican people who are fighting for constitutional government against rebellion, anarchy and murder.

MRS. SAMUEL SLATER, former Boston milliner, whose charge against her husband has been dismissed by the French court.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Samuel Slater, son of Miriam Slater, who was the owner of the Slater woolen mill at Woburn, Mass., has been acquitted in the Paris courts on a charge of misconduct with Mrs. Slater, a Frenchman's English widow who, Slater's wife alleged, is now occupying her place in the couple's domestic life.

Although the police verified the allegation of Mrs. Slater that Mrs. Slater is living in Slater's flat in the Avenue d'Alsace, they were unable to establish misconduct. The court accepted Mrs. Slater's explanation that she was merely a nurse and interpreter to Slater, who is ill.

The Slaters, who were married in 1900, parted in 1912, each entering divorce proceedings. In her suit Mrs. Slater, who was also 807 of Boston, alleged she is now penniless, although her husband inherited from his father $200,000 and possesses an annual income of $24,000.

Mrs. Slater, before her marriage, was a milliner in a Boston department store. Since their union they have been considerably better off.

Because of misunderstandings, Slater tried to secure a divorce in France, but Slater's wife alleged that she had tried to force enough to bring action.

Campaign Bills of Walsh All Paid

"Poor Man's Fight" Big Success, His Brother Says.

Major Thomas J. Walsh, brother of Governor-elect Walsh, made the following statement today at the Hotel Lenox:

"You can say to the readers of the AMERICAN that every bill contracted in my brother's campaign was paid last night. There will enter office with absolutely no obligation of any kind to any body."

"His 'poor man's campaign' was an unqualified success. There were very few large contributors. None of them was solicited. All were voluntary."

"There was no more out last night than at 10 p. m. we sent him away out of town and he has not returned since. He could not be disturbed. He needed a good long sleep."

"I have received more than the total amount today. One was from President Wilson through Secretary Whitney in response to his telegram to the President stating that Massachusetts held some Democrats."

Cox, Progressive, Beats the "Ring"

Charles M. Cox, the Progressive candidate, won the senatorial seat in the Fourth Middlesex District over Alvin E. Bliss, Republican, and Alva, Democrat. Cox conducted an aggressive campaign.

"With the 'Midnight Blue' was the main plank in his platform. He won a vote of 7,470 with a majority of 1,708."

Wellesley girls, while awaiting election returns, in which they took great interest this year, observed annual "parade" several hundred undergraduates, and their day in charged clubs and organizations simultaneously.

FIGHT TO SAVE WOMAN DOOMED TO BE HANGED

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 5.—Public sentiment is already beginning to reactivate in Connecticut and it is believed that Mrs. Beulah J. Walsford will ever go to the gallows to pay the penalty of murdering her husband, William O. Walsford.

If the state senate Attorney Devine will take an appeal to the Supreme Court of Connecticut, otherwise the only hope of a commutation of sentence lies in Governor Baldwin and the State Board of Pardons.

"I have not considered any commutation in regard to Mrs. Walsford," said the governor in Hartford last night. "The governor of Hartford last night said that he would not consider any commutation except one vote as a member of the Board of Pardons and Pardoners."

The unanimous vote of its members is required to issue a pardon."

Passed Night in Prayer.

The prisoner looked singularly girlish as she walked to the bar in Superior Court yesterday afternoon. She had spent a sleepless night in prayer.

"I feel as though I were already dead," Mrs. Walsford said on the morning of March 4, 1914," by Judge Burpee.

This is the first woman to be convicted of murder in the first degree since 1790. Mrs. Walsford's "evil genius" and accomplice in the murder.

The extreme penalty voted out to Mrs. Walsford and pronounced was unexpected, in view of the fact that she had pleaded in the conclusion of Mrs. Walsford and had job.

LEVI H. GREENWOOD, Senate President, beaten for re-election by the suffragists.

The defeat of Levi H. Greenwood, President of the state Senate in the Third Worcester Senatorial District, was today attributed in part to the active campaign of the suffragists, led by Margaret Powers A. Crowley, assisted by Margaret Powers and Mrs. Mary A. Mahan. They rallied on the spot of Greenwood from the start.

Mr. Greenwood, running for re-election, was defeated by Edward Wright, Democrat, by 455 votes.

The suffragists denied "booming" Greenwood in his meeting, but after Greenwood's rally the suffragists were seen to be cheering him. As they came from the hall, the suffragists were engaged and as fast as women were admitted there were women to take their place.

All the while in the district were visited and over thirty citizens were distributed giving the suffragist version of Greenwood's career.

They attacked him on his general political record and claimed he had been against every law that had been enacted at the State House for the benefit of working men.

Greenwood, running for re-election, was defeated by Edward

MARSHALLS PICKED FOR THE ELECTION

Transcending Democratic gains—the victory of the G. O. P. men in many a close district—and a crushing blow to the Millinery Ring were the big features of yesterday's Democratic landslide. And one of the big factors in the final result was the effective work of the women suffragists.

Levi H. Greenwood, President of the Senate, was defeated for reelection by the suffragists. Greenwood was the acknowledged Republican leader of the Senate, and was the target of the party in both House and Senate. He and his friends were confident of victory. Margaret Foley led a campaign against him—and he was defeated.

Which points a moral. For the suffragists in Massachusetts this year should police business and parties—and the direction of one of the best political minds in the State—and went out and worked on the voters. They will keep it.

Representative Alvin E. Bliss, who sought the Senate from the Middlesex district, over his defeat in the suffragists. They put 15,000 circulars into his district in Middlesex. He was defeated by Charles M. Cox, Progressive.

Legislature in Doubt.

The complexion of the Legislature is still somewhat in doubt. In the House, however, reliable figures are obtainable on 220 of the 240 seats. These figures show the Republicans 103 seats, the Democrats 100 and the Progressives 17. It is certain that the Progressives will hold the balance of power. Figures put out by the New Bureau indicate the following: Republicans 117, Democrats 108, Progressives 15, Independents 2 and 10 seats.

In the Senate the Republicans have elected twenty-two members. The Democrats have eighteen and the Progressives two.

The triumph of the Governor's Cause is still in doubt. Governor Dwyer of the House, however, is believed to have won the election. He is believed to have won the election. He is believed to have won the election.

Nature's Own Wrapper Keeps Tobacco Best

The Natural Leaf Wrapper is valued highly because it enables the manufacturer to give you the freshest—sweetest—coolest tobacco for your pipe.

In Master Workman Tobacco all the natural moisture, on which the natural flavor of the leaf depends, is retained, because all the moisture and sweetness of the leaf is pressed into the plug and kept there by Nature's own package—the natural leaf wrapper.

Sliced or granulated tobacco must be inferior to Master Workman Plug, because any chopped-up tobacco must lose its moisture and flavor—become dry—burn fast and smoke hot. That's why all such chopped up tobacco bite your tongue.

If you want a slow-burning—cool—sweet smoke, get a plug of Master Workman today and whittle off a fresh pipeful. That first smoke will show you.

GOVERNOR-ELECT WALSH THANKS MR. HEARST

William Randolph Hearst, New York City:

Returns show the triumph of the Democracy in our Massachusetts election and my own elevation to the governorship. We have been kindly treated by the press of the Commonwealth and valiantly championed by the Democratic newspapers. Personally, I have had the powerful championship of the Boston AMERICAN, particularly in the closing and critical days of the canvass. It gives me great pleasure to thank you and the Boston AMERICAN for this support.

BOSTON'S PLURALITY FOR WALSH IS JUST 27,741

Boston rolled up a plurality of 27,741 for Walsh, and down through the line of the candidates on the state ticket a similar plurality was given over Republican

Barry for Lieutenant Governor had 27,257 over costing and pluralities of 27,000 were given to the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, Treasurer, Auditor and Attorney-General.

Out of 52,423 votes cast, the seven candidates for the governorship thus lined up.

Walsh, Dem., 46,468; Bird, Pro.,

19,827; Gardner, Rep., 13,160; Foss, Ind.,

2,197; Wilson, Soc., 1,200; Fox, Lab.,

277; Ryan, Proth., 148.

While Democratic leaders predicted plurality for Walsh of 20,000, and fourth place in the race for Governor Foss, they expressed their gratification at the result.

Few changes were made in Representatives to the Legislature where candidates sought a re-election. In Ward 1, the contest was noteworthy in the defeat of Thomas J. Gilbin. Thomas A. Nifand, who ran as an Independent and conducted as strenuous a campaign as any Boston ever saw, was too man over Gilbin.

William F. Doyle came next.

In the sixth district, the old Pittsburgh stronghold, Representative James

J. McLaughlin and Vincent Brown had an easy time in winning, while from colleagues, Representative Robert Bell-and, were returned to the House without opposition.

In the fourteenth district, John J.

Murphy, who this year ran on Democratic-Independent nomination papers, was defeated for re-election by William

M. Cronin. Murphy will ask a reconstruction of his old Nineteenth district, and so Representative William M. Mc-

Morrow goes back to the Twenty-Brancher seat.

In the Twenty-fourth district, Har-risson H. Atwood, Republican, was defeated by William H. Martin, who has been a Progressive and a Republican. Martin was re-elected from Ward 25, the Brighton section.

Ex-Tammany Chief

Sees Its Quick Fall

James J. Martin Says "Boss" Murphy

Has Destroyed Party.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—James J. Martin, leader in Tammany Hall in the days of Richard Croker, whose right-hand man

he was, but who has been on the outs with the present chief, Charles F.

Murphy, predicted today a complete downfall of Tammany Hall.

He has always kept in close touch with the inside workings of the Tammany organization and is considered an authority on those matters. When asked what he had to say about the election of the fusion ticket, he said:

"All I want to say is about two words —'Boss Murphy.' His able leadership has forced the impudent of Boston, long his party in this State and has destroyed his idea to take city."

PARTY LEADERS COMMENT ON RESULT OF ELECTION

State political leaders made the following comments on the election upon the announcement of the figures.

DAVID I. WALSH

My first feeling in the hour of victory, in the hour of exultation, was rather of great responsibility. I believe the pledges I have been making during the campaign to serve my fellow citizens earnestly, faithfully, devotedly.

In the election of today I see the mandate of the people for progressive government. In the fulfillment of the aspirations of the people I seek the assistance of all progressives, whatever party allegiance.

CHARLES F. GARDNER

I have made the hardest fight that I have been capable of making, and I shall continue the fight until I know it is the people's right to elect the man who is controlled by big, crooked business—some day

the people will awaken to this danger; the greatest in the State. But the hour of it is not yet.

JOSEPH A. MAYNARD

Governor Walsh carried Boston by more than 20,000 plurality. The figures tell the whole story. We all adore in his splendid victory, and know his administration will more than justify the confidence manifested in him by the Boston Democracy at the polls today.

ALFRED P. GARDNER

I mean to stand away at this time in the Republican business for some time, for when my party comes back it will be on a liberal platform.

Obviously the people don't want me, and I can't make them want

me, and I can't make them want

me, and I can't make them want

Team That Has Speed and Weight Needs No Open Plays

By J. W. MCNAUGHY.

Along about the first of last month a chap that we know was giving us a bit of trouble for believing that the district had a chance with the Athletics in the world's series. He went over a lot of letters, letters that he had written in the past, and also reminded us that Harry was not so far gone as it might be.

There is no doubt that the Athletics are a very strong team, but they are not so strong as they seem. They are not so strong as they seem.

First

THE opening scene is laid in the parlour of a New York house when the waiters are busy with the coffee. Nelson, a man of thirty, is sitting at the table, looking at the clock. He is a man of high society, and he is waiting for a woman who is late. The scene is set in a room that is elegant and comfortable, with a large fireplace and a chandelier. The atmosphere is one of quiet anticipation.

That Is True

"Coffee drinking almost ruined my health before a heart and nerve specialist informed me that coffee was my whole trouble."

"I am 53 years of age, and from boyhood up to about the year 1900 I was strong and well, could eat any kind of food day or night, slept soundly, and it was said that I had no nerves."

"I began to suffer from indigestion and was getting sleepless and nervous. I took medicine, kept at work, and stuck to my coffee—the harm of it was never suggested to me."

"One morning just after dressing I collapsed, and for six weeks I was very sick. But I pulled through. After another rest I did not improve, but became worse. My heart got very bad, so weak at times that I would faint. I also suffered from constipation."

"In February, 1908, I was obliged to resign my position as manager."

"Finally in July, 1911, I came to San Francisco to consult the best heart and nerve specialist to be found, and was directed to Dr. Laramie Mayer. He made a thorough examination and several blood tests. He told me that the trouble was with my heart and nerves—brought about by coffee; that the caffeine contained in coffee was poison to me, and to stop the use of coffee absolutely and immediately. Since that time I have not tasted one drop of coffee."

"When I stopped coffee I thought: What shall I drink? Milk has a tendency to constipate me; cold water is all right in its place, but it doesn't belong on the breakfast table. So I concluded to try Postum. It is delicious with cream and sugar. I drink it whenever I can find it, and I enjoy it as well as I could any coffee."

"My normal weight was about 170 lbs., and I had been as low as 113. In three weeks I was greatly improved; in six months I began to feel like my old self, and now, ten months after I stopped coffee, I am about the weight 175 lbs. I have not been constipated once—not once! My stomach seems as good as ever; I sleep well, feel well, and I am well."

"I am sure my good doctor's advice, 'stop coffee,' is the secret of my improvement."

"Of course I have it in for coffee, and why shouldn't I? See what it cost me, my health, position and thousands of dollars."

"Now in conclusion, you are at liberty to use my name any way you wish. I enclose names of my doctors. My only object is to help other afflicted persons. I don't want any compensation, and would not accept any."

Postum now comes in two forms.

Regular Postum must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolves in a cup of hot water and, with sugar and cream, makes a perfect cup instantly.

Grocers everywhere sell both kinds.

A mighty army of former coffee drinkers now use

POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

The special process by which H-O is prepared, gives you the best of the best oats.

Unlike other brands H-O is a blend of selected varieties.

It supplies phosphate for the brain and nitrogen for the body. There is a flavor in H-O which you cannot get from ordinary oatmeal.

They add just the right touch to soups and gravies

Nothing else improves the flavor of soups and gravies so wonderfully as two or three Oxo Cubes, dropped in just before serving. This only takes a second but it makes a great difference—10 cubes for 25c.
